

Leonid (Lenny) Metlitsky

Brooklyn, New York

lennym.dev

Summary

An eager learner with many extracurricular activities, leadership positions, and work and volunteer experiences. Passionate for software development, climate science, as well as transit and urbanism.

Skills and Technologies

- Website Development and Design (html, css)
- Javascript/Node.js/Typescript (express, react/vue/angular/svelte, nextjs)
- Data Science (numpy, pandas, matplotlib, scipy, opencv)
- Python (Flask, django, opencv)
- Leadership of teams and projects (multiple leadership positions held)

Education

Stuyvesant High School (4.0 GPA)

September 2021-Present

Professional History

Full-Stack Developer

Keeper.ai

July 2023-Present

- Developed and styled 20+ reusable UI components for the React frontend
- Created a new on-boarding flow with a frictionless user experience for thousands of new users with more than a 35% conversion rate

Freelance College Computer Science course tutor

October 2022-Present

- Tutor multiple college students with their computer science courses

Summer Youth Employment Program of NYC

July-August 2022

Council of Jewish Organizations of Flatbush

- Worked to spread civic engagement and participation in my community

Extracurricular activities

Stuyvesant Spectator Website Editor

- Develop and maintain the newspaper's website and IT infrastructure for more than thousands of daily viewers
- Create a content management system for more than 3,000 articles

Stuyvesant Linux Club Co-founder and Co-president

- Teach to a community of hundreds of avid learners and hobbyists
- Produce dozens of tutorials and engaging blog posts for the community

Hackathons and Awards

Best Online Newspaper Website at Baruch College HS Journalism Program 2023

First Place at StuyHacks XI (2022)

First Place at Tech Optimum Hacks 2022

First Place at StuyHacks IX (2020)